Did you know?

Whether you're uninsured, unemployed or just paying too much for your health care insurance, you could qualify for financial assistance to help you get great coverage and lower health care costs.

More than half of all uninsured Americans qualify for health care financial assistance.¹

Even higher-income earners can have their premiums capped at no more than 8.5% of annual household income for an average savings of $70 per month.²

4 out of 5 lower-income earners qualify for premiums under $10/month² and some can qualify for $0 premium silver plans.¹

Getting coverage also means avoiding the high cost of care.

Broken bone without insurance:
$7,500³

Diabetes complications without insurance:
$9,850⁴

Heart attack without insurance:
$20,246⁴

90% of these costs can be covered by Marketplace plans, after your deductible.³
